THE CATTLE DEAL GETS MORE COMPLICATED...

MOVING? Please use form inside paper and give full information. Mailing list is run on Friday for following week.

For most of us pore old ignorant Americans our knowledge of the Cattle Bizness is largely confined to brewin' & drinkin' same, but since the Price has become somethin' that is makin' waves all around th' world and threatenin' to bring on a Cattle Boycott, it was interestin' to get some facts on th' matter recently that indicate we have somethin' besides a frostbit set of trees or bushes in Brazil.

Economist Points Out Proposal Falls Short of Campaign Promises, Certain To Be Revoked By Congress Action

College Station, Mar. 24 — The Carter administration 1977 farm bill proposals reflect an attempt to keep program costs low while maintaining a high level of exports and a minimal inflationary impact, according to a Texas Agricultural Extension Service economist in policy and marketing.

Dr. Ronald D. Knutson says the farm bill proposals represent a continuation of the same international economic, consumer, and federal budget concerns that existed throughout the Nixon and Ford years.

"The proposals were precipitated by an early struggle within the new administration over the Secretary of Agriculture's role in food and fiber policy decision. In this regard, it was clearly a defeat for Secretary Bob Bergland, farmers and ranchers," Knutson contends.

Except for milk, Knutson says the proposed target and support prices were substantially less than the full cost of production promised producers in the campaign.

Corn producers — with a proposed loan rate of $2 per bushel — came out considerably better than wheat producers with a proposed loan rate of $2.25 and target price of $2.60 per bushel. Wheat producers were hoping for a minimum floor price of $3. In a surprising turn of events, the loan rate for corn was set above the target price — making the target price ineffective and meaningless.

The cotton loan rate was increased from 42¢ to 51¢ cents per pound. "Texas rice producers will be extremely unhappy with the reduction in the target price from $8.25 during 1977-78 to a proposed $6.75 in 1978-79. This proposed reduction in price comes on the heels of a change

Critics of Carter Farm Bill Blame Council of Economic Advisors For Administration Plan Shortcomings

Heavy criticism of the new proposed farm bill surfaced immediately after details of the legislation were made known. To begin with it fell short of some of the goals of Secy. of Agriculture Bergland, and it was generally believed that the President's Council of Economic Advisors, headed by Charles Schultz, and it is certain that some big changes will be made before the bill is finally enacted since features. Tower said the bill fails to reflect production costs.

Critics of Carter Farm Bill

Sen. Robert Dole of Kansas said "Butz would have needed a body guard," if he had carried the bill to Congress. Wheat growers had asked a $3.00 loan rate on wheat and Representative Keith Sebelius, Kansas, noted "Compared to what this program contains for milk, corn, cotton producers, the wheat farmers have been kicked in the teeth. It was reported some farmers are already calling for Bergland's resignation."

Some observers have expressed the view that Secretary Bergland is starting out as a stormy petrel, similar to Earl Butz, who made his support of farmer interests highly controversial. Bergland is beating the drums for support of U.S. sugar producers, and his recent scheme to organize a wheat cartel-type arrangement with Canada has drawn considerable criticism.

The bill proposal of grain reserves, in the case of wheat some 300 million bushels, has been labeled device which could be used to depress market prices, similar to the manner in which CCC stocks were used in the past. Long term storage contracts on grains are conceded to be a protection for consumers and feeders against rising grain prices.

The formula for figuring farm production costs has also drawn fire, and President Oren Lee Staley of the NFO called for "true and honest" cost of production figures and other farm from a production control program similar to that which currently exists in peanuts and a 50 per cent decline in price since 1974, Knutson points out. "Additional proposed administration program changes of significance to Texas farmers include the establishment of a grain reserve, a modified one-year extension of disaster payments, a removal of acreage allotments, and an increase in the payment limit," the economists says.

The wheat reserve calls for a relatively modest 300 million bushels maximum quantity to be held by farmers in storage for up to five years. Farmers would be paid about 20 cents a bushel to cover storage costs. Producers would be restricted in releasing this wheat until the market price reached 140 per cent of the loan rate, or $3.15 per bushel. When the price reaches 170 per cent of the loan rate ($3.72 per bushel) farmers would be penalized if they didn't sell.

"This reserve is intended to be a part of an international reserve de-organizations have been critical of the USDA approach to figuring these. Sen. Herman Talmadge of Georgia, chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, voiced disappointment with the Carter Administration bill and signaled the certainty that changes were due when he introduced a farm bill some weeks ago which are considerably higher in target and support figures than the Administration bill.

signed to stabilize wheat prices — that is, to establish a range within which grain prices would fluctuate. This range, if the reserve were large enough, would be between the loan level of $2.25 and release price of $3.72," Knutson explains.

The disaster programs would be extended for one year with two significant modifications. "First, payments would be graduated according to the per cent loss, instead of every one who qualifies receiving the same payment regardless of the per cent loss, as is the present situation. Second, there would be a requirement that planting actually take place for eligibility. The proposed one-year extension of disaster payments is intended to give the Administration time to develop a comprehensive subsidized crop insurance program," says Knutson.

Removal of acreage allotments also is proposed. Deficiency payments are currently made only on allotted acres. Under the proposed program, deficiency payments would be made on all current production required to meet domestic and foreign market needs. If implemented, any value that existing allotments hold would cease to exist, Knutson contends.

The divergence of these proposals from bills that have already been introduced likely means an extended Congressional debate over food and fiber policy," Knutson says. In light of this fact and the May 15 Congressional deadline for a new bill to be reported out of Committee, Knutson sticks by his previous prediction of a one-year extension of present legislation and a two-year debate over farm policy.

Vernon Smith New Santa Gertrudis

President, Other Officers Named

Vernon Smith, El Colina Ranches, Dallas, was elected president of Santa Gertrudis Breeders International at the 28th annual meeting recently held in Houston. Other officers elected are: Bobby Shelton, Kingsville, Texas, Vice President; Charles Grove, Orlando, Florida, Treasurer; and John Martin, Alice, Texas, Secretary.

Dolph Briscoe, Governor of Texas, made an appeal before the assembly for the Federal government to get out of the energy picture. He commented that "no one in or out of government is smart enough to make price controls work on the long haul."

The Governor pointed with pride to the pay-as-you-go operation in Texas. He said that the State has a stringent budget, has a surplus, and has no corporate nor individual income taxes. He stressed the importance of the individual in agriculture, and urged new effectiveness in agriculture production.

On the business side of the meeting, outgoing president, Roberto Berger of Guatemala, and Bobby Shelton presented an advertising budget of $44,000 for 1977. This represents a 350% increase above the past two years. Total budget was set at $554,000.

They also announced that herd members have increased by 28% over two years, from 190,000 to 250,000. There were 60,785 animals classified by last August with transfers up 10%.

Dan Wendi, Bay City, Texas, head of the foreign market committee, suggested that Venezuela has great potential for development. He warned that creeping socialism in the Latin American countries could slow this growth.

Tweet Kinball, Sedalia, Colorado, chairman of the Membership Committee, gave a glowing report of progress. In two years, membership has grown from 1610 to 2085 active members. Junior members grew from 326 to 419 during the same period.

Mark Connally, Floresville, Texas, reported on youth activities. He emphasized that breeders must give financial support so that more suitable premiums may be afforded. This appeal brought immediate action.

Mark, his father John Connally, and others in the family donated $2,600 to the youth program. This was followed the next day by several consignors donating the proceeds from the cattle sale to the fund.

Jack Burrell, Dallas, was presented the high gaining weight per day of age trophy. His bull weaned at 900 lbs. and gained 685 lbs. at one year of age, for weight per day of age at 4.11 lbs.

Mrs. Alice Briggs, San Antonio, received the "Outstanding Santa Gertrudis Breeder of the Year" award. In his address to SGBI members, new president Vernon Smith touched on several important subjects. He urged greater participation of the affiliate organizations. He asked for broader participation of both regular and junior members in SGBI programs. And he noted that SGBI currently is searching for a new executive director.

The main objective of the sale, "something for everybody," is shown in the large offering of every cattle class to meet the needs of all types and sizes operations. The wide selection of 175 lots includes 120 pairs and bred females, 50 service-age bulls, 15 fifteen-to-the United States and also in Brazil.

James Smith noted the ranch is widely known for its progressive breeding techniques and conservation practices. It participates in a number of demonstration projects and is used as a teaching facility by the Texas Christian University Ranch Management Program.

The sale will begin at 12:30 p.m. Saturday, April 16, with Walter Britten, Bryan, serving as auctioneer.

The New Zealand News, from down south of the equator, says: "A hole was cut in the wall surrounding a nudist camp. The police are looking into it."

Dr. L. G. Ballard's Live Oak Angus Herd Based On Quality Breeding

Granbury, Texas — Dr. and Mrs. L. G. Ballard, owners of Live Oak Angus Ranch here, bought their place in 1962, and after evaluating everything he could learn about the beef cattle business, decided to go with Angus — a decision that has made Dr. Ballard "happy I did."

At one time the Live Oak Angus herd was built up to around 160 mother cows, but has been cut back in recent years to a herd based on quality instead of quantity.

Much of the quality of the herd has been achieved by Dr. Ballard's meticulous selection of both females and bulls for the herd.

An example of that careful selection is the Ballard's "TT Marshall Pride", one of their current herd sires, that was purchased in-dam from the Premier Corp., Fowlerville, Mich. TT Marshall Pride, selected to introduce the Marshall Pride lineage into the Live Oak breeding program, is one of the largest framed, dimensional sons of Marshall Pride 256, "Tiny Tim" (CMS) seeing service anywhere in the land today. The dam of TT Marshall Pride is Premier Primrose 898B, an own daughter of Emulous Pride 70, "Big 70", who qualified as a 100 percent certified meat sire, and is a full brother to Emulous TN-70 (CMS), 1970 and 1971 "Sire of the Year" winner.

A further example of the quality

Marshall Pride 881, in the foreground above, senior herd sire of Live Oak Angus Ranch, has become a point of "pride" for his owners because of the scale and substance he has put on his calves.

Displaying the quality of Live Oak Angus is this daughter of Emulous Pride 70 (CMS) with bull calf sired by Marshall Pride 881.
